PBC® HEADLINES

Volume 27

Number 1

Spring/Summer 2020

WHERE ALL THE NEWS IS GOOD BREWS

Beer is living proof that God loves us and wants to see us happy.
.....Benjamin Franklin

As this menu goes to print, our lives have been disrupted beyond what most of us could ever have imagined. No, it is not WWII, but it is war.... Like many of us have never experienced.

PBC was closed for a while, as many of you already know. We spent time repairing/resurfacing our kitchen floor. We had a management team of 8 working inside the restaurant, sprucing things up, planning for when we reopen.

Pow-wowing together to find our way.

You will notice that our menu has been streamlined. For 26+ years we have experimented with new menu items, kept some for a long time, and just kept on expanding and expanding our offerings.

We felt that this was the time to simplify the menu and the hoops our kitchen crew had to jump through in order to put out such a variety of foods....and we looked at all the product we had to bring in to make such a diverse menu work. We pretty much had things from many different cultures, English Bangers & Mash, Asian Stir Fry, Spinach Enchiladas, Mexican fish beach tacos, each dish featuring spices and sauces unique to that dish.

So, as you peruse Volume 27 of the "Headlines" you may find that your very favorite thing is no longer there.

Believe us, even John and I will miss some of our past items. If you don't see your all-time favorite, please expand your horizon and venture out with your tastebuds.

Things that still remain for many reasons...is due to popularity with our guests, labor intensity, availability of a for-sure supply chain and staying within our pub-style price points.

John and Roxane Nielsen, Owners
